We all have them
What do they say?

ABOUT THE WORKSHOP

We are all unique in our genetic structures and in our experience of life. Just as no one has exactly the same finger-prints or shape of ear, no one has exactly the same response to life. Looking in the mirror with this kind of knowledge can resolve life long personal and relationship issues.

The knowledge of Structure/Function assists us to know and accept ourselves as we really are, and not as what we want to believe we are. It is the study of how physical structure (cell proportion) translates into human function (behaviour).

This workshop will explore our Structure Function Traits. The goal of this workshop is to:

- Help us know more about ourselves.
- Observe how other peoples' Structure / Function differs from ours and how this impacts on our outlook on life.
- Understand how structure / function gives us the best communication tools we can have to know what others feel, and what they want.

Structure/Function has been scientifically validated to the 1% level, which means that it is accurate at least 99% of the time. The information is based on a five year research study done by Robert and Elizabeth Whiteside and staff with further study undertaken by Daniel Whiteside (Three In One Concepts).

WHO IS THE PRESENTER?

Christine credits Three In One Concepts with enabling her to find her inner strength. She has used this knowledge to build her self-esteem which has helped her to cope with major challenges in her life.

Christine has had eleven years experience working successfully with children, adolescents and families in Australia and overseas using Three In One Concept's One Brain approach which includes Structure Function.

Bring along a photo of your partner or any member of the family or friends whom you would like to understand better.

Looking forward to seeing you

Christine
